Saving Pages docs in Word format, however, isn't quite as obvious as you may imagine, because it's not a "Save As" it's an "Export".

Let me show you...

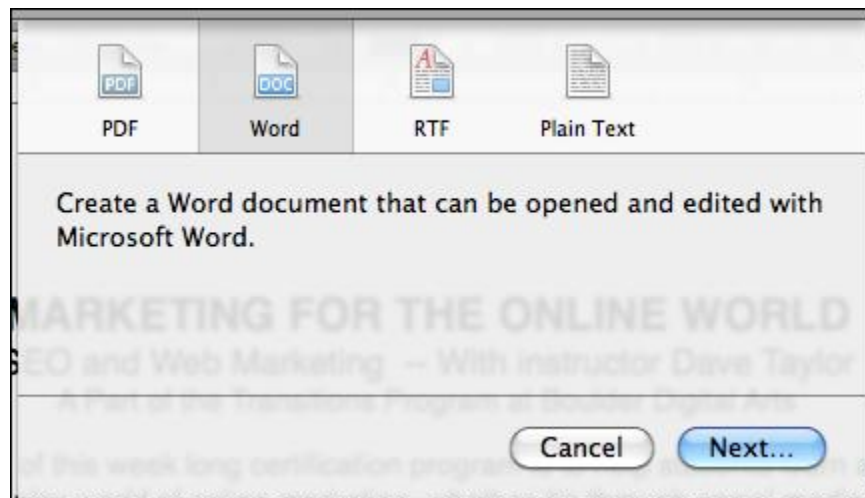

Open up your Pages document, then choose "Export..." from the File menu:

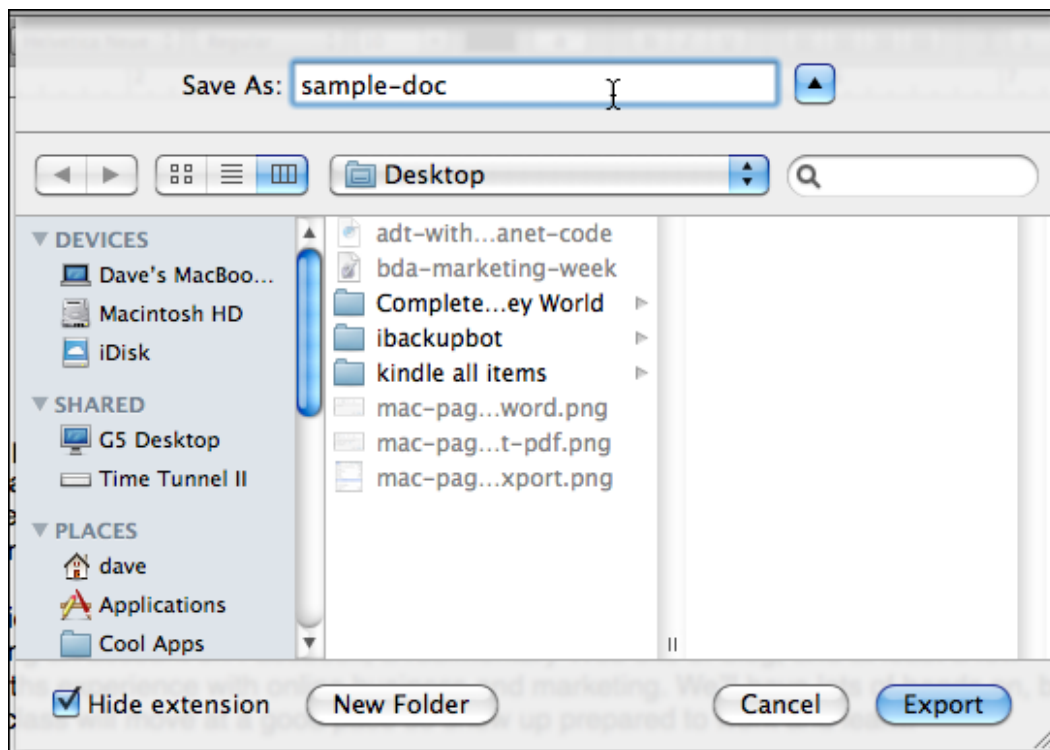

Chose that and you'll see that there are a bunch of formats you can create:

The default is a PDF document. Easy, straightforward. Click on "Word" and you'll see:

No options, just click on "Next..." and you'll be able to type in the doc name you desire:

Enter a good name, add ".doc" if you think it'll make it easier for the recipients, and click "Export".

That's it. Done. Now you have a ".doc" file on your computer that's a Microsoft Word friendly version of your document. Not too bad!
